

Flipped classroom

The Flipped classroom refers to students learning new content outside the classroom, via video presentations, and then doing practice in the class. This makes it easier for the teacher to give more personalised help and attention during the practice stage. It also means students can go at their own speed during the presentation stage.

The Flipped classroom videos, delivered by Gateway 2nd Edition author, David Spencer, offer an engaging grammar presentation of each unit's Grammar in context section. The visual presentations introduce concepts and make new structures accessible through examples, timelines and diagrams.

The videos are a versatile and efficient resource for teachers, since they can be used flexibly for mixed-ability groups or for revision.

By presenting the grammar to students outside class time, the Flipped classroom approach allows for more lesson-time practice.
